HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT

To the Board of Selectmen:

Your Health Officer respectfully submits the following report:

During the past year there were nine cases of diphtheria and seventeen cases of scarlet fever. A strict quarantine was imposed in each case. There was no great number of these at any one time. The cases were scattered throughout the year. The appearance of these sporadic cases indicated the existence of germ carriers which could not be recognized. Medical authorities now believe that because there are so many and varied immunizations given to children the virulence of any one type is thereby minimized. Nevertheless, as heretofore, every case will have the strictest supervision.

There were two cases of infantile paralysis. There were very few cases of measles, mumps or whooping cough. Whooping cough is now one of the most dangerous of the diseases of children and those who have it are restricted to their own homes.

There were nine cases of syphilis reported by the doctors. Those cases reported as being treated out of town were checked regularly to insure that full treatment was taken.

Three cancer cases were brought to the attention of the Cancer Clinic at Concord. The Health Officer made one trip to Concord to insist that an advanced case receive immediate treatment.

Complaints of unsanitary conditions in tenement houses relative to sinks, drains and toilets, especially during the winter months, were investigated. These conditions were remedied.

Many complaints came from some unsatisfactory factory conditions. Repeated and insistent demands did not always produce prompt compliance. The support of the Labor Commission at Concord was enlisted in our endeavors to better these conditions.

Numerous samples of food and produce were sent to the State Laboratory for examination. Samples of fertilizers were submitted, especially those in which the lime or phosphoric acid content was suspected to be deficient. These were sent to New Hampshire University to be properly tested.

Attention was given those living outside the water precinct to see that wells were properly located. Elevation, terrain, condition of the soil and seepage were factors considered in the surveys to assure uncontaminated drinking water.

The water users made a number of complaints that the drinking water of Newport was at times muddy and rust colored. The Water Commissioner assured us that this was due to the large volume of water used in summer, causing the loosening of deposits in pipe lines.

The disposal of garbage, especially in summer, is a disturbing question. It demands a solution. It would seem best that the town appropriate a few hundred dollars to help better this vexing question. We had to suppress the killing of sheep in tenements, as this is a violation of the Sanitary Code. It was a very disturbing element in the neighborhood. Seven dead animals, found in the streets, were disposed of. The depositing of dead animals and rubbish on the banks and in the river, near bridges and summer homes is unlawful. The cooperation of our citizens is hereby enlisted to better this condition.

The usual routine tests of the milk delivered in town were made. Several tests were made of milk which was under suspicion. The tests this year showed a better average record than any previous year. Several milk licenses were refused because of lack of proper equipment for the care of milk.

We arranged for several tuberculosis clinics, with the following results:

Number of clinics held during the year	2
Number of persons examined at clinics	61
Number of new persons examined at clinics	30
Number of new positive tuberculosis cases found	6
Number of new suspicious tuberculosis cases found	4
Number of families under supervision	39
Number of positive tuberculosis cases under supervision	33
Number of patients cared for at sanatoria	3

The New Hampshire Tuberculosis Association, through its annual Christmas Seal Sale, finances all of the diagnostic Tuberculosis Clinics throughout the state and a staff nurse for each county, whose duty it is to carry out a program of case-finding, follow-up, and health education.

The good that is accomplished in the clinic service is not entirely confined to sifting out the tuberculosis patients, for during the course of the year a large number of individuals were found to be suffering from other ailments and were referred to physicians for treatment.

Many complaints are made of dumping of automobiles and similar debris near public highways. This accumulation has in some instances assumed enormous proportions. While this is not actually unsanitary, it certainly is unsightly. This disfigurement hurts the good name of Newport. It is outside the province of the Health Officer to correct this evil. The enactment of the Zoning Law, which we have long advocated, is the only remedy for this serious situation.

Respectfully,

JOHN R. KELLY, Health Officer.

REPORT OF

CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Selectmen of Newport:

Herewith is my report as Chief Engineer of the Fire Department for the year ending January 31, 1936:

The activity of the Fire Department has been, as the year previous, very active. The Department has responded to 159 calls and it is with great satisfaction that we are able to report that loss has been very small considering the amount of work the Department has been called to perform. This is due to the efficient work by the members of the Department. The organization of the companies under the exceptional efficiency of the officers is second to no other Department. It is noteworthy that there is no lack of cooperation and it is especially free from any friction or dissention within the organization. I hope this may continue as the efficiency of the Department depends upon this one thing more than anything else.

The equipment is in first class condition and has not failed, on any of the 159 calls, to leave the house without a moment's delay.

The Department's quarters are in very fair condition, and, with a very small outlay, will be in first class shape. There has been a new gravel roof put on the house the past year, the first since it was built, and the coming year will require painting and minor repairs inside.

The amount of insurance paid in the last twelve months amounts to $10,140.61, and about $5,700.00 of this loss was at the Stone place at North Newport. The character of the house, the distance of about three miles' run, delay in giving alarm and the distance from water speaks great praise for the efforts of the members of the Department in keeping the loss down to so small amount even as this.

I hope the people of our town fully appreciate the service rendered in the care of chimney fires that the Department is called upon to care for. In many instances serious results would occur without the attention that has been given.

I wish to extend my congratulations to our citizens for having so well organized a body of men that is ready at all times to perform any service that they may be called upon to perform.

Also, I wish to extend my most sincere thanks to all members of the Department for the courtesies extended and their hearty cooperation.

GEO. E. LEWIS, Chief, Fire Department.

February 1, 1936.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the Newport School Board:

I herewith submit my second annual report as superintendent of schools.

ENROLLMENT AND TEACHERS

Last fall the enrollment in the High School and Primary School showed a material increase. There are about 25 more high school pupils than we had last year. An extra teacher has been added to the corps and the assembly hall is used for classes and study groups. A curtain divides the hall into two "rooms." The disadvantages under which we labor are explained in Headmaster Perkins' report.

The two first grade rooms were quickly filled to capacity last September, leaving a score of children on a waiting list. These children were not six years old on September 1 and could, under the rules, be asked to wait a year. But to do that would make a large first grade next year. They were to be six by January 1 and therefore eligible, according to general practice, for entrance to school if only room could be found. So the former office of the superintendent at the Richards Building was fitted with furniture, another teacher hired and an additional first grade started. There were 104 pupils in grade one at the time.

The third grade had 99 pupils and was, therefore, too large to be satisfactorily taught by two teachers. But there was no extra room to be had. A little relief was secured by transferring a few pupils to the Kelleyville School.

For some years pupils in the Primary School have suffered from over-crowded conditions. Individual work with pupils is very difficult when there are 45-50 pupils in a room. This year we have been fortunate in having a special teacher, Iris Pohl, to give special instruction to pupils who show a need of it. She has been stationed in the upper corridor, since there is no room available. Small groups of children from the six rooms in the building come to her, according to a daily schedule, for remedial instruction in reading. Each pupil is thoroughly tested and records are kept of progress made. The results are very pleasing. In the second grade group, for example, the number of errors in oral reading was reduced in about three months from an average of 13 per pupil to 3. The rate of reading was increased. Both results show an improvement in reading ability. This individual instruction has proved its value and should be continued as long as we have to work under present unfavorable conditions. Some 75 pupils have the advantage of this special instruction every day.

There are now 34 teachers in Newport, including the music supervisor. Last year there were 32. There is one more teacher at the High School, and two more in the primary grades than last year. At the Richards there is one less because the special class doing three years work in two has completed its schedule. No other special accelerated group is planned at present.

The enrollment in Newport schools shows a steady increase over the years. In 1902-03 there were only 462 pupils in town with an average daily attendance of 87 per cent. Last year there were 1,047 pupils with an attendance of 94 per cent. In the last ten years the number of pupils has increased by 321 pupils. In the same period we have added only five teachers (not counting the supervisor of music.) The expansion of our teaching force has not kept pace with the expansion in school enrollment. This results in an unfortunate overloading of the teachers with correspondingly less attention to needs of individual pupils. This situation constitutes one reason why Newport's per pupil costs are so low as compared with our state averages. The other reason is the low level of salaries.

Average Per Pupil Costs 1934-35

	Newport	New Hampshire
	$ 66.11	92.00
Elementary Schools	48.90	64.33

The professional spirit of our teachers is excellent. Nearly one-third attended summer school last summer. This means new information about subject matter and methods of instruction. Most of all it means a broader outlook, a deeper understanding of education, and a new inspiration for service. It is our belief that all teachers should occasionally take advantage of summer sessions at college or normal school. All teachers take, or have access to, professional magazines. Many read professional books during the year.

EVENING SCHOOL

Evening School was maintained last year for 92 sessions from Nov. 22, 1934 to April 18, 1935. Miss Lillian Henault,

Plymouth Normal School, 1934, taught commercial subjects. Miss Dorothy Perkins, Keene Normal School, 1932, taught English and Domestic Arts. Upon her resignation, February 1, 1935, Miss Sonia Skoby, New Hampshire University, 1934, taught the English Classes. Domestic Arts was dropped because classes became too small. There was a total enrollment of 153. The average attendance each night for the classes was as follows:

Beginners' English	16.23	Shorthand	8.54
Naturalization	11.33	Literature	8.06
Typewriting I	11.09	Bookkeeping	7.47
Typewriting II	10.44	Gen. Bus. Pract.	6.63

School was in session five nights a week from 6:30 to 9:30. There were two classes a night. Each group came two nights a week.

The United States Government paid $539.00 for teachers and $47.00 for books and supplies. The Newport School District furnished accommodations, with light and heat, and paid $92.00 for janitor service. Textbooks cost $77.75, but deducting government reimbursement and income from sale of books, made the net cost for books only $22.24.

This year government aid was not made available but classes in English are being conducted at local expense two nights a week. The number of people who want this instruction warrants the maintenance of the school. The attendants are most faithful and earnest. The teacher is Miss Catherine Condon, Bates College, 1935. At present the enrollment is 31.

REPAIRS

PRIMARY SCHOOL. Platforms were built outside each front door, so that the step down does not come right at the threshold. This eliminates danger of falling and brings the little children nearer the door-knob. The old dilapidated fence has been removed by National Youth Administration labor. A new one will be erected next summer.

RICHARDS SCHOOL. The outside woodwork was painted and the windows calked. Painting the interior of the Annex was completed. The interior of the main building should be redecorated, taking one floor each year to spread out the expense. It is planned to put in new toilets next summer if funds are made available.

TOWLE HIGH SCHOOL. The outside woodwork was painted. The lawn (one of the most conspicuous in town) was in bad condition, due to destructive action of insects, presence of sand, and weeds. The top soil was removed and replaced with good loam. A new cement walk was laid from the boys' side door to Belknap Avenue. Forty new desks were placed in room eight to accommodate the larger number of pupils who entered in September.

FINANCES

The Newport Public Health Nurse Association has requested an increase of $100.00 in the appropriation for the school nurse. This seems reasonable in view of the fact that the number of pupils to be cared for has greatly increased since the present appropriation ($300.00) was established.

The amount under "alterations" is to provide new toilets at the Richards School, the need of which was explained in last year's report.

On June 30, 1936, the last of the bonds for the Richards Annex will be paid. That means a decrease of $2,000.00 annually in the amount needed for payment of principal on debts. Interest charges are, of course, less each year.

The total of the recommended budget is more than $1,000.00 less than the budget presented last year. On account of tuition receipts and an anticipated balance next June of $1,300.00 the amount of the appropriation requested is less than that of last year by $2,352.85.

I wish to express my appreciation of the whole-hearted cooperation of the School Board, teachers, janitors, and others with whom I have worked.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED W. SMITH. Supt. Schools.

REPORT OF THE HEADMASTER OF TOWLE HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Alfred W. Smith,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

I respectfully submit the following report:

A. Enrollment, as of January 1.

B. Scholastic Achievements

1. The results of tests given in the spring of 1935 by the State Department show that the High School stood sixteenth in a group of 105 in general achievement.

2. The New England College Entrance Certificate Board has again approved the High School, thus making entrance to the colleges possible without examination.
3. There are fifty graduates attending institutions of higher learning.
   University of New Hampshire, 10; Keene Normal School, 5; Dartmouth College, 4; Worcester Polytechnic Institute, 3; Simmons College, 2; one at each of the following: Bowdoin College, Bates College, Catholic University, Ithaca College of Music, Maryland Institute of Technology, Medical School University of Pennsylvania, Norwich, Georgia Tech, Smith College, Maryville College, Hamilton College, Bay Path Institute, Bentleys College, Plymouth Normal School, Palmer School of Chiropractic, Mt. Holyoke, North Hampton Commercial School, Edgewood Secretarial School, Boston Conservatory of Music, Farmer School of Dietetics, Concord Business College, Massachusetts General Hospital, Concord State Hospital, Sacred Heart Hospital, St. Luke's Hospital, Mary Hitchcock Hospital.
4. Three teams of seniors competed in the annual Scholarship Day at Keene and the Chemistry group tied with Atkinson, New Hampshire, for first place.

C. Extra Curricula Activities

1. The extra curricula activities are being governed under the newly organized Student Council, composed of the various extra-curricula clubs and supervised by teacher sponsors. There are fourteen organizations or clubs in the present active list.
2. Weekly assembly programs are being presented by various pupil organizations and thus afford opportunities for pupil participation in dramatics and rhetoric.
3. The Thirty-First Annual Fairbanks Junior Prize Speaking Contest was well received. Seven excellent selections were given. Gordon Flint won first prize for his selection, "The Union Soldier," Ruth Mackenzie won second prize, and Byron Parker received honorable mention. Through the generous interest of our benefactor the Fairbanks Junior Prize Speaking Contest has been perpetuated by a trust fund, as a bequest of the late George A. Fairbanks.
4. The Athletic Program provides six interscholastic sports in which the pupils may participate. The revival of track last spring has met with considerable enthusiasm and greater participation is anticipated for the coming year. The lack of gymnasium and locker room facilities proves a rather serious handicap to the interscholastic program of sports.

5. The orchestra, band and glee clubs, sponsored by the school, are providing an outlet for musical talent among approximately 150 pupils. Special instruction is fitted into the daily program for those who desire it. A Gilbert & Sullivan Operetta is planned for the winter season production of the combined musical groups.

D. Administration

1. The increase in enrollment has produced three definitely undesirable situations which should be corrected as soon as possible, unless the efficiency of the school is to be somewhat impaired.

   These are: First, the necessity of dividing the auditorium with a curtain, for class room use; secondly, the necessity of study groups in many of the recitation rooms; thirdly, teacher loads are so heavy that individual conference work is impossible.

   The enrollment figures in the lower grades would indicate that no material increase will be felt after this coming year. However, the school plant is hardly adequate for the present pupil load and no material improvement can be anticipated by natural reductions in the number of pupils for some time to come.

2. There are three notable achievements that merit commendation during this past year.

   First, the English Department has revised the reading lists and a plan for the distribution of time between Grammar and Literature has been worked out and a new Grammar text book adopted. Secondly, a Teachers' Committee has been working on a proposed revision of the curriculum that would include a course in Citizenship in Grade 9, and a general science course in Grade 9, as introductory courses for the respective fields of Social Science and Science. Thirdly, a catalogue containing the program of studies, together with explanations of the various curricula is being prepared as an aid to the parents and pupils registering for the coming year.

It is the purpose of our school to prepare young people for responsible citizenship and the cooperation of the pupils, teachers, and townspeople have made possible the many creditable achievements of those who are being so trained.

Respectfully yours,

ERNEST M. PERKINS.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

Mr. Alfred W. Smith,
Superintendent of Schools.

Dear Sir:

I herewith submit a brief report of the health conditions in the Newport schools.

We have been very fortunate for the past year in that we have had no serious or widespread epidemic. As a result of that we have had no large number of children out of school. I am also glad to report a marked decrease in the number and seriousness of cases of impetigo and other skin diseases.

The Red Cross is still maintaining and supporting a dental clinic for our school children. The fact that a much less number of children has been out of school on account of dental troubles, has shown the very great benefit of the work. Due to the fact that it is very uncertain how long the organization may feel able to carry on the work, and the additional fact, well established in many communities, that this work is a function of the school department, I would recommend as I did last year that serious consideration be given and provision made for the work.

Poor work in our schools can, in many cases, be traced to faulty vision. Many children are unable to have the proper corrective work done. Isn't this a challenge to our community?

Respectfully submitted,

ANNA DONOVAN, R. N.
